This villa breathes history, is stylish and beautifully designed. Perfect for large families or groups of friends.

With a minimal loft-style design, Villa Ascani has been restored with a deep understanding for its traditional Santorini architecture, using the old style of polished cement and eco-friendly materials. Elements of its wine making past have been incorporated into the design and a huge piece of machinery stands like a magnificent sculpture as the centerpiece in one of the numerous living spaces.

Santorini is famous for her organic Cycladic architecture, but it's not every day you get to experience something like this. The villa boasts generous outdoor space: with two impressive pool terraces and various additional arrangements, you will be spoilt for choice in finding your perfect spot to lap up the Greek sunshine. Care and attention has been lavished on this home to make sure everything is stylish and luxurious without being fussy. Thanks to its layout, the villa can be split into two totally separate and private villas, or hired as a whole – a truly knockout retreat for an unforgettable wedding or a big family reunion.

The village below has several restaurants, a minimarket, bakery and several cafes.
