A former Saracen watchtower, built on a sheer cliff with stunning sea views and located on a most serene private estate. Direct sea access. Located in Maiori, close to Amalfi.

La Torre Saracena is a medieval watchtower, now restored to offer luxury villa accommodation which is situated on a sheer cliff within a private luxury estate. There are four separate annexes in addition, meaning in all there is space for twelve persons.

The grounds descend the hillside from the coastal road through dense Mediterranean vegetation of scented pine woods, lemon trellises and beautifully tended gardens all the way to the sea. The villa is elegantly furnished with antiques and modern design classics accentuating the beauty of this unique building. Plate-glass windows and a series of panoramic terraces offer spectacular views across the sea and of the unspoilt Amalfi Coast. These terraces provide a perfect setting for relaxing and eating outside. There is also an exclusive double-level swimming pool, plus a winding path which leads down below the tower to a private cove for swimming in the sea.

The estate provides small electric cars for access within the estate.
